

In 2003 the CIR Expert Panel began a review of methyl methacrylate, but decided to end the review as methyl methacrylate itself was not a cosmetic ingredient. Methyl methacrylate is used as a monomer in some polymers used as cosmetic ingredients. Please see the CIR reports on methyl methacrylate containing polymers, e.g., Polymethyl Methacrylate, and Acrylates Copolymers, for more information.